

Computer Scoring for Level 2 Booklets

NO HAND SCORING NEEDED • DETAILED TEST ANALYSIS

We now offer computer scoring for Level 2 booklets of the 1970 CAT.

How it works: We disassemble and scan the entire booklet. Due to advances and tweaks in our mark reading program, the computer can now read bubbles close to printed words with a high degree of accuracy. What this means for you is a considerable time savings on scoring and the same type of detailed test analysis available for the upper levels of the 1970 CAT.

We do need more information about the student than the back of the booklet asks for, so we have designed labels to go on the front. Please apply and complete the information labels we send with your order — see details below. Have your students fill out the bubbles in the booklets carefully and completely as they test, erasing any mistakes cleanly. Make sure they do not make any extra marks inside the booklet. Any teacher markings inside the booklet should be with red pen only, since red disappears when the booklets are scanned.

Why not Level 1? If you look through a Level 1 booklet, you will notice that not nearly all the test items use bubbles. In some sections, letters have to be blacked out. In others, pictures have to be filled in. It is unlikely that we will ever score Level 1 booklets by computer.

Our replacement for Level 2, the Academic Progress Test, Level 2•4, is still available. However, at this point, we recommend Level 2 of the 1970 CAT because of its continuity with the rest of the 1970 CAT in other grade levels.

Information labels required

When you order computer scoring for Level 2 booklets, we will send you a label for each student, which needs to be filled out and applied in the top right corner on the front of each booklet. Use the horizontal and vertical lines on the booklet as guidelines. For the curriculum codes and flag bubbles at the bottom of the label, see the administration directions accompanying your order. Please use a dark pencil or black pen. Red will disappear when we scan the booklets.
